Day 3

Bangkok

All day

Bangkok is the capital of Thailand, with a Buddhist temple one step at a time, and is known as the "Buddhist Capital."

When you come to Bangkok, the characteristic market that you can visit from morning to night is a must-see attraction.

The first stop will be to the first floating market in Thailand known as the Damnoen Saduak Floating Market. The market has a history of a hundred years so far, and many popular film and television films such as "007", "Detective Chinatown" and "Macao" have been filmed here. Then, we will take the bus to the Buddhist Temple in the Tree, one of the top ten Buddhist temples in Thailand. The old tree hugs the Temple in the Tree tightly, and the temple is completely integrated with the natural environment. After that, we will go to check in at another special market known as the Maekong Railway Market. The stalls in the market are placed along the railway. Every day when the train arrives at the station, the bell rings in advance. Finally, we will go to Red Sky Bar to overlook the beauty of Bangkok and have a drink.

Itinerary:

Damnoen Saduak Floating Market (2 hours, including wooden paddle boat) → Wat Bang kung (20 mins) → Mae Klong Market (30 mins, including one-stop train ticket) → Red Sky Bar (60 mins)

All day

Damnoen Saduak

Floating Market Damnoen Saduak is one of the most popular floating markets around Bangkok. It has a lot of amazing things to discover, from shopping to dining and strolling around. Damnoen Saduak Floating Market consists of a maze of narrow khlongs (canals).

Wat Bang kung

This temple is probably the most iconic in Amphawa District known for its roots and branches of banyan tree which over the centuries have surrounded and locked the building it houses a golden Buddha. The building dates from Avutthava period, it is externally and internally quite simple. These are the roots and leaves of the trees that surround and dominate the temple making it the trunk of a huge tree that make it remarkable.

Mae Klong Market

The Mae Klong Railway Market (Hoop Rom Market) is a local market in Samut Songkhram Province. It is commonly called the Siang Tai (life-risking) Market. It is considered to be one of the most amazing Thailand attractions in the province. Spreading over a 100-metre length, the market is located by the railway near Mae Klong Railway Station, Mueng District and the Samut Songkhram Province. It is a common fresh market selling seafood, vegetable, fruits, fresh and dried food, meats and other miscellaneous goods.

Red Sky Bar

Red Sky Bar is located on the 55th floor of Centara Grand at Central World, in the center of Bangkok city. Follow us and take a visit to the open-air bar for drinking and brilliant night view.

Day 4

Bangkok - Vehicle - Pattaya

All day

After breakfast, we will go to the famous Grand Palace in the center of Bangkok. It is a perfectly preserved, large-scale and rich national palace located in Thailand. It brings together the essence of painting, sculpture, and decorative arts. It is a must-see tourist attraction in Bangkok. The Temple of the Emerald Buddha, one of the three major national treasures of Thailand, is located in the northeast corner of the Grand Palace. It is the place where the Thai royal family enshrines the jade Buddha statue and holds religious ceremonies. The temple includes the Temple of the Jade Buddha, the Hall of the First Kings, the Hall of Buddha Bones, the Buddhist Scripture Pavilion, the Bell Tower and the Golden Pagoda. It is famous all over the world for its exquisite and vivid, luxuriously decorated spire decoration, architectural decoration, and cloister murals. Afterwards, we will go to the Zheng Wang Temple located on the west bank of the Chao Phraya River in Thailand. The Zheng Wang Temple occupies a large area, second only to the Grand Palace. After that, we will leave Bangkok and drive to Pattaya to watch the beautiful ladyboy performance, and enjoy the audio-visual feast brought by the gorgeous theater and professional singing and dancing performances!

Itinerary:

Bangkok → Bangkok Grand Palace / Temple of the Emerald Buddha (90 mins) → Wat Arun (60 mins) → Drive to Pattaya → Tiffany's Show Pattaya (45 mins, VIP seats)

Kindly Reminder:

1. The Grand Palace will not be open to the public if the Thai royal family has a major event or a royal family activity going on.

All day

Bangkok Grand Palace

Every visitor to Bangkok should see the magnificent buildings within the Grand Palace compound to get a feeling of the grandeur architectural style. Since the founding of Bangkok as the Nation's capital by King Rama I, The grand palace has been the major architectural symbol of The Thai Royal family. In the present time, The Royal Family resides at Chitralada Palace while The Grand Palace is used for ceremonial purposes. Today, the place is used for hosting royal ceremonies and welcoming the king's guests, State guests, and other foreign dignitaries. It is also a place where remains of kings and high-ranked members of the royal family were situated before cremation.

Temple of the Emerald Buddha (Wat Phra Kaew)

Initially found in the North of Thailand. The emerald Buddha housed in the temple in the center of the compound is a memorable religion political symbol and protective image of Thailand. It is one of the most venerated pieces of art in Thailand and a must see.

Wat Arun (Temple Of Dawn)

Wat arun gets its name from Aruna, the Indian god of the dawn, hence its common name The Temple of Dawn. The location of the temple is in the area that used to be occupied by the Palace of King Taksin who re-established the Siamese Kingdom after the fall of Ayutthaya more than two hundred years ago. The main Buddha image is believed to have been designed by King Rama II. Wat Arun, often called The Temple of Dawn, is one of the most remarkable visual identities of Bangkok. The imposing Khmer-style prang or tower is 104 meters tall and decorated with bits of porcelain that was used as ballast by boats coming from China. It is surrounded by four smaller prangs.

Tiffany's Show Pattaya

Tiffany's Show Pattaya is the first authentic cabaret show of South-East Asia and was established in 1974. With now over four decades of experience, Tiffany's Show Pattaya enjoys world-wide. Everyone will be amazed by the glamour and talent of our beautiful performers. Tiffany's Show Pattaya is truly the stage experience of a lifetime! The show is family-oriented and was voted among the Top 10 World's Best Shows. Now, every night, over 100 professional performers in dazzling costumes delight audiences in glamorous and unique performances. The 1-hour-15-minutes-long show is an incredible experience of light and sound.

Special Regulations About Thailand:

1. Thai temples are sacred places recognized by Thai people. Please dress modestly when entering Buddhist temples. Anyone wearing short skirts, shorts or topless backless outfits will not be allowed inside. When entering the Buddhist hall, visitors need to take off their shoes and be careful not to step on the threshold.
2. Don't touch other people's heads, and don't mess with other people's hair. If you accidentally touch someone's head, apologize immediately and sincerely. Thais are taboo for outsiders to touch the head of children (especially young monks). Children's heads are only allowed to be touched by the king, monks and their parents.
3. Thai people think that people's left hand is unclean, and the left hand can only be used to hold some unclean things. Therefore, holding important things with the left hand will attract disgust, and in more formal occasions, it is necessary to present them with both hands, and using the left hand will be considered to despise others.
4. The soles of the feet are also considered unclean. When taking a seat, avoid putting your feet on the table. You will be severely reprimanded if you hit or point at someone with your toes, and you must never point your feet at the Buddha. When sitting, do not raise your feet and point the soles of your feet at others.
5. You can't shake hands with monks, you can only salute with palms together. Women can't touch monks. If you want to offer property, you can ask men to do it for you or put it directly on the table. When you meet a monk who begs for alms, you must not give cash, because this is an act that violates the monk's precepts.
6. In the Thai Museum Group, Wildlife Protection Group, Customs Department, Thai Government Tourism Office, and Thai Embassies, Consulates or Overseas Representative Offices, you can receive manuals on foreign exchange control and control project regulations, and tell what items to buy , before leaving the country, it is necessary to apply for approval from the government agency of Thai Customs.
7. When purchasing larger Buddha statues, antiques, and artworks (except for small souvenirs) that require special packaging in Thailand, you must first obtain an export permit from the relevant competent authority or store, so that they can be submitted for customs inspection when leaving the country.
