Crater Lake National Park

The fifth oldest national park in the United States is also the world's largest crater lake, Lake Chili. 7,700 years ago, Mount Mazama erupted, leaving a basin where the peak was originally. Thousands of years of rain and snow filled the basin and formed a lake. The annual snowfall here exceeds ten meters. The pure deep blue of Lake Chili is unmatched by other lakes. It is the deepest lake in the United States, with a depth of nearly 600 meters. There is no place in the world that combines such a deep, pure, and blue lake at the same time, pure as a fairy without dust.

Sea Lion Cave

Sea Lion Caves is a connected system of sea caves and caverns open to the Pacific Ocean in the U.S. state of Oregon. Sea Lion Caves is one of the great sea grottos of the world, comparable in size and coloration to the famed Blue Grotto in the Mediterranean. America's largest sea cave, it's nothing short of wild!

Thor's Well

Sitting on the edge of the Oregon coast near Cape Perpetua, a gaping, seemingly bottomless sinkhole swallows the unbroken stream of seawater around it. Thor's Well, as natural wonder is known, is believed being connected with another world.
