All day

Today, we will visit Emei Mt. with profound cultural heritage. Emei Mt. is a sacred place of Chinese Buddhism, known as the "Paradise of the Buddha", and is the ashram of Samantabhadra. With its "majestic, beautiful, divine, strange and spiritual" natural landscape and profound Buddhist culture, it has been included in the "List of World Cultural and Natural Heritage" by UNESCO. Afterwards, we will drive back to Chengdu and visit Kuanzhai Alley in Qingyang District, which is composed of Kuan Alley, Narrow Alley, and Well Alley arranged in parallel, all of which are antique quadrangle courtyards with indigo bricks and tiles. This is also a relatively large-scale Qing Dynasty left over from Chengdu. ancient street.

Itinerary:

Emei Mt. Baoguo Temple (60 mins) → Take the cable car to the top of Mount Emei → Mount Emei Jinding (2 hours) → Chengdu → Kuanzhai Alley (1 hour)

Morning

Emei Mt.

Emei Mt. (Emeishan) is an area of exceptional cultural significance as it is the place where Buddhism first became established on Chinese territory and from where it spread widely through the East. The first Buddhist temple in China was built on the summit of Emei Mt. in the 1st century CE. Emei Mt. is an area of striking scenic beauty. It is also of great spiritual and cultural importance because of its role in the introduction of Buddhism into China. The conscious siting of so many of the cultural monuments, particularly of traditional architecture, within the natural environment makes it a cultural landscape of very high order. Emei Mt. is also notable for its exceptionally rich vegetation, ranging from subtropical evergreen forests to subalpine pine forests. Covering an area of 15,400 ha in two discrete areas – the Emei Mt. and the Leshan Giant Buddha Scenic Areas – the property is an area of natural beauty into which the human element has been integrated with skill and subtlety.

Baoguo Temple (Emei Mt.)

Baoguo Temple is a Buddhist temple located on Emei Mt., in Emeishan City, Sichuan, China. It is the site of the Buddhist Association of Emei Mt.. The temple mainly enshrines Buddhist Bodhisattvas as well as sages of Confucianism and deities of Taoism, which makes unique temple of three spiritual traditions. Now the existing main buildings include the Shanmen, Hall of Maitreya, Mahavira Hall, Seven Buddha Hall and Buddhist Texts Library. Under the eaves is a plaque with the Chinese characters "Baoguo Temple" written by Kangxi Emperor and inscribed by calligrapher Wang Fan.

Emei Mt. Jinding

The Jinding, elevation 3,077 metres (10,095 ft), is the main peak of Mount Emei, a UNESCO World Heritage Site in Sichuan, China. It is also a common name for the Buddhist Huazang Temple built on the summit. Jinding is the highest Buddhist temple in traditionally Han areas of China. Jinding is known for its "four wonders": the sunrise, the sea of clouds, the "Buddhist halo", and the "divine light".

Afternoon

Kuanzhai Alley

Kuanzhai Alley is an ancient street in Chengdu left over from the Qing Dynasty. It is composed of three parallel lanes - a wide alleyway, a narrow alleyway and a criss-crossed alleyway, with courtyards between them. Here, you may drink tea, eat hotpot and experience the old and new way of life in Chengdu. It is one of the hotspots in Chengdu where old folks come together and carry out their activities. Kuanzhai Alley also comes alive at night due to a couple of modern bars situated there. Feel free to check it out if you are a night-life person.

This morning, we will go to the Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding, an important place for ex situ conservation of giant pandas in China. The base is a world-class non-profit giant panda breeding research institution built to save the endangered wild animal giant panda. The base has verdant bamboos and trees, singing birds and fragrant flowers. It integrates natural mountain scenery and beautiful artificial landscape. It is suitable for the ecological environment where giant pandas and various rare wild animals live and multiply. After lunch, we will drive to Dujiangyan City and visit the great water conservancy project that has been benefiting the people since ancient times—the Dujiangyan Water Conservancy Project. It is characterized by a long history and no dam water diversion, and is the originator of the world's water conservancy culture. In 2018, the Dujiangyan Water Conservancy Project was included in the World Irrigation Engineering Heritage List. Then, we will return to Chengdu.

Itinerary:

Chengdu → Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding (1 hour, including battery car) → Dujiangyan City → The Dujiangyan Irrigation System (1.5 hours, including battery car) → Chengdu

Morning

Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding

Located just 10 km (6 miles) away from downtown, the Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding has been created and imitated the natural habitat of giant pandas in order that they might have the best possible environment for rearing and breeding. The giant pandas are not only a Chinese national treasure but are also beloved by people the world over. They are found only in Sichuan, Shaanxi and Gansu provinces. In total there are fewer than 2,000, of which 70% are distributed within the territory of Sichuan Province. Therefore, when visitors from home and abroad come to Chengdu, Sichuan, one of their main objectives will be to see this lovely animal for themselves. The base cares also for other rare and endangered wild animals with an area of 560 mus (92 acres), 96% of which is verdure. Giant pandas, lesser pandas, black-necked cranes, white storks as well as over 20 species of rare animals are fed and bred there. Verdant bamboo, bright flowers, fresh air, a natural hill scene and a beautiful artificial view are merged ingeniously at the base.

Afternoon

The Dujiangyan Irrigation System

The Dujiangyan irrigation system, located in the western portion of the Chengdu flatlands at the junction between the Sichuan basin and the Qinghai-Tibet plateau, is an ecological engineering feat originally constructed around 256 BC.

Modified and enlarged during the Tang, Song, Yuan and Ming dynasties, it uses natural topographic and hydrological features to solve problems of diverting water for irrigation, draining sediment, flood control, and flow control without the use of dams. Three key components of the Weir Works control the water from the upper valley of the Minjiang

River: the Yuzui Bypass Dike, the Feishayan Floodgate, and the Baopingkou Diversion Passage.

All day

Today we will leave Chengdu and take the bullet train to the mountain city of Chongqing. Chongqing is a national historical and cultural city and the birthplace of Bayu culture. It has a history of more than 3,000 years and has been called "Natural Chongqing" since ancient times. After arriving in Chongqing, we will go to Jiefang Road Pedestrian Street and check in Hongyadong, an online celebrity.

Itinerary:

Take the bullet train from Chengdu to Chongqing (including the second-class ticket) → People's Liberation Monument (30 mins) → Hong Ya Dong (1.5 hours)

Afternoon

People's Liberation Monument

Located at the intersection of Minzu Road, Minquan Road and Zourong Road in the center of Chongqing city, the People's Liberation Monument, locally called Jiefangbei, is the only monument to commemorate the Chinese people's victory in the Sino-Japanese War, a witness of Chongqing and China's changes in half a century and a landmark of today's Chongqing. The pedestrian street built around Jiefangbei has developed into the most prosperous business area in Chongqing, commonly known as Jiefangbei CBD.

Hong Ya Dong

Hongyadong has witnessed the tides of history and weathered the centuries to blossom into the huge tourist attraction it is today. Until around merely 20 years ago, Hongyadong was home to the working class of Chongqing and its distinctive stilted buildings (unique to Southwestern China). After a renovation in the 90s, the spirit of Chongqing's hardworking people has been kept in a new dazzling form. Visitors can enjoy the unique multi-level Chongqing-style architecture of centuries before, while shopping, eating and playing, all the while being swept away by the breathtaking riverside views of the city, and of Hongyadong itself - which has been lit up with a thousand lights.
