Sirmione

Sirmione is one of the most beautiful towns on Lake Garda and one of the most popular. It is perched at the top of a thin strip of land stretching onto the lake and it is almost entirely surrounded by water, a position that makes the town unique and very atmospheric.

Bridge of Sighs

Called the Ponte dei Sospiri by locals, this iconic landmark was built in the year 1600 and connects the Doge's Palace to the historic prison across the canal. Even though it has a dark history where it was once a place to transport prisoners, today it is easily considered one of the most romantic places in Venice.

Saint Mark's Basilica

The works of the present St. Mark's Basilica began in 1063 in Byzantine style to represent the power of the prosperous

Venetian Republic. This basilica was built respecting the model of two basilicas of the ancient imperial city of Byzantium with a central plan in the shape of a Greek cross, with five large domes and a particular mixture of ancient and oriental art.

St. Mark's Square

The Basilica of San Marco overlooks one of the most beautiful squares in the world. Next to both the Basilica and the Doge's Palace is where all the most important religious and civil ceremonies have always been held. Piazza San Marco is now considered the city's main symbol and tourist attraction.

Rialto Bridge

Rialto Bridge, Italian Ponte di Rialto, stone arch bridge crossing over the narrowest point of the Grand Canal in the heart of Venice. Built in the closing years of the 16th century, the Rialto Bridge is the oldest bridge across the canal and is renowned as an architectural and engineering achievement of the Renaissance. The Rialto Bridge consists of a single stone-arch span that supports a broad rectangular deck carrying two arcades of shops fronting on three roadways. The lower chord of the bridge is only 25 metres (83 feet) in length, while the width is 20 metres (66 feet). To support the wide stone arch in the soft alluvial soil, 6,000 timber piles were driven under each abutment, and the bed joints of the stones were placed perpendicular to the thrust of the arch.

Venice Canal Grande

The Grand Canal is a channel in Venice, Italy. It forms one of the major water-traffic corridors in the city. One end of the canal leads into the lagoon near the Santa Lucia railway station and the other end leads into the basin at San Marco; in between, it makes a large reverse-S shape through the central districts (sestieri) of Venice. The banks of the Grand Canal are lined with more than 170 buildings, most of which date from the 13th to the 18th century, and demonstrate the welfare and art created by the Republic of Venice.

Venice Gondola Rides

The gondolas plying the busy Grand Canal and the smaller waterways of Venice are one of the most iconic images in the world. They are the symbol of history, tradition, and romance in the city on the lagoon, and a gondola ride in Venice ranks among one of the most dreamed-about experiences for travelers.

❖【 Shopping Recommendation Guide: Rome Stores You Can't Miss 】

Walking on the streets of Rome, you are unlikely to find big-name labels on the locals, but you can see their fashion attitude from a pair of delicately patterned and exquisitely crafted pointed-toe shoes on their feet. Refusing to match clothes and bags, you will not blindly follow fashion. In Rome, shops and handicraft workshops that are not well-known and well-crafted are more popular than high-street brands.

1) Via dei Condotti

Located between Piazza di Spagna and Piazza del Popolo, it is the most famous boutique shopping street in Rome. In addition to some world-famous brands, many brands that are not well recognized in China can also be found here.

2) Via Borgognona

There are also many good small shops. Borgognona Avenue is also second only to Condotti Avenue as a commercial street specializing in designer clothes.

3) IL Portone, a hidden gem of men's clothing

Portone is the real door to the country of shirts. It is a specialty store that customizes and sells shirts. Although there is no gorgeous decoration in the store, the various shirts neatly arranged on the wooden racks on the counter are very popular among celebrities. Love it, even former US President Clinton favored it because of its beautiful tailoring and reasonable price.

Address: Via Delle Carrozze 73

4) Angelo di Nepi, a well-hidden women's clothing store

Designer and shop owner Nepi admires rich colors and combines Italian tailoring style with colorful fabrics from India to create a unique fashion. Nepi also boldly uses embroidery and silk decoration in the details of clothing, which is very stylish.

9. European hotels emphasize the historical value of the building itself, so some hotels cannot be remodeled due to the architectural theme structure, resulting in different sizes of hotel rooms. If the hotel upgrades individual rooms due to insufficient standard rooms in the hotel, this situation is beyond our control and is not a differential treatment.
10. Only for products with airport pick-up service: only one pick-up service within the free pick-up time range is provided for each order. If it is impossible to arrange due to weather and flight delay, etc., please pay for your own transportation costs.
