Day 2

Iguazu Falls (Argentina, Full day)

All day

Today, you will visit the Iguazu Falls. The Iguazu Falls are an unique and natural paradise with an incredible amount of abundant vegetation. Your visit here will be one of the best opportunities ever to connect with nature. While you visit the Argentina part of Iguazu Falls, there are three different circuits and paths that take you as close as is safely possible to experience the magic and beauty of the Falls. The Lower Path is known for its catwalks with great views of the majority of the rapids and falls from a lower, frontal view. The Devil's Throat path offers a bird's eye view and several other rapids from the Brazilian side of the park, among other spectacular close ups to other falls that compose Iguazu. On this particular path, there are a lot of steps to climb in order to reach the best view. The path winds around the islands and ends at large balconies on the edge of the falls. The Higher Path, with a 1300-meter walk, will surely raise your adrenaline levels! It will bring you as close as is safely possible to the waterfalls. The views are breathtaking and give you a view from the edge of the cliffs. This path demands the least amount of effort of all the paths with no stairs.

Day 3

Iguazu Falls (Brazil, half day)

All day

The Brazilian section of the Iguazu Falls is located on the western side of the Paraná State in Brazil. The Brazilian area of Iguazu Falls is composed of 458,000 acres and borders the Argentinean National Park, divided by the river. It is one of the largest protected areas in South America. Your tour will begin at the visitor's center, which is the main access point to the park. The building is where you will embark and disembark after the tour. You start by boarding a modern bus that follows a circuit along catwalk floors and moves safely throughout the park. You'll be able to experience views of over 275 waterfalls. The four main rapids on the Brazilian side are the Floriana, Deodoro, Benjamin Constant and Salto Unión or the The Devil's Throat. Once the circuit on the bus is finished, you will go onto a panoramic elevator that will return to the visitor center.

Itinerary:

Iguazu Falls (Brazil, half day, include ticket, Please prepare the visa to Brazil) → Hotel

All day

Iguaçu National Park - Brazil

Experience the World Wonder of Nature and live the rarest experiences of contact with nature, in the largest set of waterfalls in the world! Iguaçu National Park shares with Iguazú National Park in Argentina one of the world's largest and most impressive waterfalls. It extends over some 2,700 m. It is home to many rare and endangered species of flora and fauna. The Park's main attraction – and a major destination for international and domestic tourism – is the impressive waterfalls system of the Iguaçu River, renowned for its visual and acoustic beauty, which spans nearly three kilometers with vertical drops of up to 80 meters.
