Day 2

Vancouver - Vehicle - Whistler - Vehicle - 108 Mile House

All day

Depart from Vancouver in the morning and head to Shannon Falls. The air here is fresh and refreshing, and we can see the rushing waterfalls and magnificent mountains. Then we will go to the beautiful town of Whistler with pure air and pleasant scenery to enjoy the picturesque scenery. Have lunch in Whistler at noon, and then go to the clear and quiet Seton Lake, and then arrive at the famous landmark the Mile "0" Cairn to take a photo of the iconic stone monument commemorating the gold rush. Finally, go to the Old Bridge to enjoy the neat old bridge and valley scenery. Stay overnight in 108 Mile House.

Itinerary:

Vancouver → Shannon Falls (30 mins) → Whistler (90 mins, including lunch time) → Seton Lake (30 mins) → The Mile "0" Cairn (15 mins) → The Old Bridge (20 mins) → 108 Mile House

All day

Shannon Falls

Visit the amazing Shannon Falls with us today! Shannon Falls is composed of a series of cliffs, rising 335 meters above Highways 99 and is the third highest waterfall in the province. Shannon Falls even offers the best views and hikes for people to enjoy and explore.

Seton Lake

Seton Lake is a lake in the Squamish-Lillooet region of southwestern British Columbia. It is a freshwater fjord. The blue lake is calm, with the reflection of green mountains and beautiful scenery. On the northeast side is Mission Ridge. On the southwest is the Cayoosh Range. By road, the eastern end is about 7 kilometres (4.3 mi) southwest of Lillooet.

The Mile "0" Cairn

The Mile '0' Cairn was erected in 1939, marking Mile '0' of the old Cariboo Road. From this point in the early stage coach days, all road houses and stopping places from here to Barkerville were known by their mileage from Lillooet - 70 Mile, 100 Mile, and so on.

The Mile 0 Cairn is where the U.S. Army surveyors designated the beginning of the Alaska Highway. This renowned landmark is one of the most photographed subjects.

Day 3

108 Mile House - Vehicle - Farwell Canyon - Vehicle - Tweedsmuir South Provincial Park - Vehicle - Bella Coola

All day

Today we will first go to Farwell Canyon, where the sand dunes and strange peaks and rocks are fascinating. This place has been of great significance to the Aboriginal people for generations and is an important salmon fishing area. Then go to Tweedsmuir South Provincial Park to observe bears, eagles and other wild animals. You can stroll here and immerse yourself in the magnificent scenery of the wilderness when inspiration strikes.

Itinerary:

108 Mile House → Farwell Canyon (60 mins) → Tweedsmuir South Provincial Park → Belarko Wildlife Viewing Platform (60 mins, lunch time included) → Bella Coola

Note: The opening time of the Belarko Wildlife Viewing Platform is from 09/01/2025 to 09/30/2025. During its closure, the itinerary will be changed to observe wildlife activities in other areas of Tweedsmuir South Provincial Park.

All day

Farwell Canyon

Farwell Canyon in Riske Creek, British Columbia, Canada is an easy-access exceptional sightseeing destination in the Central Cariboo-Chilcotin Region. The canyon is a good stop on any trip when seeking hoodoo canyon views, wildlife viewing opportunities and a taste of the region's history. Farwell Canyon is best known for the Chilcotin River, hoodoos and sightseeing Big Horn Sheep. The scenery is best viewed from the lookout ridge fronting the canyon. From the ridge, looking down into the canyon, one can see the aqua-grey coloured Chilcotin River carving a path along the canyon floor.

Tweedsmuir South Provincial Park

Tweedsmuir South Provincial Park is a wilderness area located in British Columbia, Canada. It was established on May 21, 1938 in the western interior of the province to protect its important natural landscape. It covers over 989,616 acres and offers a wide range of recreational opportunities, including hiking, fishing, camping, and wildlife viewing. The park is home to several glaciers, lakes, and rivers, making it a popular destination for outdoor enthusiasts.

Belarko Wildlife Viewing Platform

Belarko Wildlife Viewing Platform is located on Highway 20, 13 kilometers within the western boundary of Tweedsmuir Provincial Park, adjacent to the Belarko Boat Landing. The goal of the Belarko Wildlife Viewing Platform is to reduce risks to humans and bears and other wildlife. The platform is surrounded by an electric fence supported by cedar railings to enhance public safety.

The platform provides visitors with the opportunity to observe bears and other wildlife in their natural habitat. The platform offers stunning views of the Atnaco River. The best time to see them is during the salmon spawning season in late summer and early fall.

Day 5

Bella Coola - Vehicle - Tweedsmuir Provincial Park - Vehicle - William Lake

---

All day

This morning we will depart from Bella Coola Lake and head to Tweedsmuir Provincial Park. There are several glaciers, lakes and rivers in the park, where we will have an exciting bear watching, fishing and rafting experience. Drift quietly along the winding trails of the Atnaco River and watch bears forage and care for their cubs in their natural environment. We can not only follow the tracks of black and brown bears, but also see the very rare figure of the spirit bear. From the end of August, thousands of salmon come to local rivers to spawn - the final stage of their life cycle. For bears, salmon is an easy meal. Many bears and other wildlife gather on the river to feast before the long winter. Glide past foraging bears, stop on the banks of less traveled rivers to observe their behavior up close, and take a fascinating ecological walk with bears. Overnight in William Lake.

Itinerary:

Bella Coola → Tweedsmuir Provincial Park (3 hours) → William Lake

Note: The departure dates in September has a high chance of capturing the spectacle of bears catching salmon; Wildlife activities are due to uncontrollable human factors, and the observed animal activities on that day may vary. We apologize for any inconvenience caused.

All day

Tweedsmuir Provincial Park

Tweedsmuir Provincial Park covers 981,000 hectares (2,428,000 acres) and is the largest park in British Columbia. This narrow, triangular park encompasses rugged mountains, sparkling rivers, BC's largest old-growth forest, and pristine wilderness in the heart of British Columbia, providing wildlife with the range they need to survive.
